

Literature Online

Instant access to 14 centuries of English literature!

How many original English & American literature print titles do you have in your library?

LION gives you and your student's access to over 360,000 literary works from the 7th century to present and 800,000 works of literary criticism, through an unrivalled search facility, and all on your desktop.

Now you can make connections across genres and centuries that would have been impossible before. LION gives you the chance to put behind you the days when research was limited to what was in the library.

Now you have at least 5 reasons to subscribe to this unique collection:

Unique library of primary works

360,000 primary works:

- entire canon of English poetry from the 7th century to the present
- over 8,000 works of drama featured, incorporating the works of Shakespeare, Marlowe, Sheridan and more.
- over 2,200 works of English and American prose ranging from the 16th century and encompassing the works of esteemed novelists such as Hardy, Dickens and Melville.
- 400 volumes from Penquin Classics series!

Literature Reference Works

Access to complete, cross-searchable texts from a vast array of major reference works from acclaimed academic presses like:

- Columbia Dictionary of Modern European Literature
- The Concise Oxford Dictionary of Literary Terms
- New Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics
- Routledge Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English

Criticism resources

The Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature (ABELL) is included at no extra cost.

The Modern Languages Association International Bibliography (MLA) is available as an add-on module, allowing you to cross-search the MLA International Bibliography and ABELL within the Literature Online database.

Full-text Literature Journals

Contemporary criticism is also available through the full text of 317 current literature journals. Archives are also accessible for selected periodicals.

The percentage of Literature Online titles indexed in the MLA IB is 83%.

Unique Literary Tools

Thanks to reliable Subject indexing thematic searches can also be run. The quality of indexing in Literature Online (including the ABELL index as standard) ensures precision results are returned.

Variant spelling allows both expert and non-expert users to search using modern English spellings and automatically retrieve instances of extant early modern spelling variants.
