

THEORETICAL LINGUISTICS ENTHUSIASTS

COME ONE, COME ALL!

Have you heard how TDK (Student Scholarly Circle) Competition/Conferences are a great opportunity to

- do your own research?
- improve and grow professionally?
- network and socialize with the like-minded?

Do you know

- what they involve exactly?
- how to prepare for them?
- what would make a good topic?

If the answer to any of the three questions is no, you might want to come to the first meeting of our TDK Group.

Room 450

6th March

5:30 PM

where you can meet Theoretical Linguistics TDK-veterans from DELG (Department of English Linguistics) who share their experiences and will help you with anything TDK-related throughout the semester. Whether you already have some ideas or you are “simply” interested, you’ll be welcome at our meetings!

Should you have any questions, don’t hesitate to contact:

tdk.delg@gmail.com